Additional Information

Please keep hold of the notes on this page for future reference

Congratulations on having completed your four basic mandatory courses listed above.

Once you have gained more than 6 months of fishing experience the next step on your career path is to book onto the Seafish 1 day Safety Awareness course. This course uses the knowledge you have gained during your six months at sea and looks at risk assessment as a way to further reduce possible accidents at sea. Risk Assessments are usually carried out by crew members who have a good knowledge of on-board operations and processes.

If you wish to remain a commercial fisherman this course must be completed within two years of having completed the Health and Safety course.

To book onto the one day Safety Awareness course you will need to contact one of our Approved Training Providers who's details can be found on our website using the following link

<http://www.seafish.org/training/seagoing-training/offshore-approved-training-providers>

Once you have achieved this next step on your career path you will then be eligible to apply for an Experienced Fishermen's Photo ID card. Please contact Seafish using the details below, when you are wanting to apply for this card.
